RareBooksClub. Paperback. Book Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. Paperback. 56 pages. Original publisher: Washington, D. C. : Library of Congress, Prints and Photographs Division, 2008 OCLC Number: (OCoLC)291098314 Subject: Photographs. Excerpt: . . . programs 60 hours of design, coding, and testing activity reporting programs and databases 8 hours of uploading the initial batch of photos 50 hours of testing, completing the record preparation (this included completing any lingering image-related issues and image cleanup if needed), and ensuring that no images were included in the pilot set that would be inconsistent with Flickr's community guidelines. Once Flickr set the date by which they would perform the necessary programming to allow a new rights statement to appear on the Library's account, the implementation team began to meet in earnest each week. Approximate staff time for pre-launch preparation included: 20 hours of team meetings and discussions (8 staff members 20 meetings 160 total staff hours) on non-technical tasks 10 hours of drafting and coding various descriptive materials to appear on Flickr and loc.gov. This included composing the account profile and set descriptions, identifying what were likely to be the frequently asked questions and drafting the answers, designing the page on the Library's site describing the pilot, working with the Office of Communications on the new Library brand mark, which debuted publicly with this project. 6 hours of developing procedures to work with expected user-generated content (e. g. , moderation of content added to the account, reviewing likely group requests, handling Flickrmail inquiries and responses, etc.). 45 hours of communications work including arranging internal briefings and external publicity. Sporadic dialogs between Flickr and the Library stakeholders took place throughout 2007 to discuss various issues related to the proposed project. The time line for...
